

Planning and Quality Assurance Affairs

Form (A)

Course Specifications

General Information

Course name	Geography of Tourism
Course number	GEOG4341
Faculty
Department
Course type	Major Needs
Course level	4
Credit hours (theoretical)	3
Credit hours (practical)	0
Course Prerequisites

Course Objectives

1 - Knowledge of viable tourism* Knowledge of the importance of tourism* Identify tourist regions

Intended Learning Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding	* • * To mention the elements of tourism to determine the regions tourism* mentioning the types of tourism in the world*
Intellectual Skills	* Compares the tourism potential - - tourism concludes relationship to geography - classified tourism regions
Professional Skills	* Compares the tourism potential- Tourism relationship concludes geography - -asnf tourism regions The student designed a regional model - civilized proposal
General Skill	* Reading and access to tourism- draw tourist maps

Course Contents

1 - This course aims to introduce students to the political geography concept and motives and factors affecting the tourist activity, with the study and analysis of tourism development and characteristics, and factors affecting the tourism and attractions with a stand on the development of the tourism sector in the Arab world and Palestine plans

Students Assessment

Assessment Method	TIME	MARKS
– mid-term Exam.
	mid- term Exam.: mid. term
		mid- term Exam.: 30 marks
Students attendance and absence. – Activities and fast researches.
	Students attendance and absence.: End term 3 – Activities and fast researches.: mid term
		Students attendance and absence.: 5 marks. – Activities and fast researches.: 5 marks
– Final Exam
	Final Exam.: End term
		Final Exam.: 60 marks

Books and References

Essential books	Mohabbat Sharabi: Tourist regions in Egypt, the Anglo-Egyptian, Cairo. Abdulkadir Hammad Nasser Eid: The Geography of Tourism, Yazigi library for printing and publishing, / Gaza 0.2008
Recommended books	Mohammed Khamis Alzikh, geopolitics, knowledge Dar University, Alexandria 0.200 • Fathi Mohammed Bakir, geography, tourism, Dar university knowledge, Alexandria 0.2005