

Planning and Quality Assurance Affairs

Form (A)

Course Specifications

General Information

Course name	Regional Geography of the World
Course number	GEOG4342
Faculty
Department
Course type	Major Needs
Course level	4
Credit hours (theoretical)	3
Credit hours (practical)	0
Course Prerequisites

Course Objectives

- 1 - That students acquire the basic skills in the field of regional geography. -Shows the relationship between the regional geography of the world and other sciences. -That the student understands the curriculum regional and identify recent trends in regional geographical schools. -It is applied research on the continents of the ancient and modern world. -Analysis of the political problems and identify the levels.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding	* - Regional geography of the world shows the field. -Illustrates the impact of ancient and modern statements revealed in the world. -Recognize patterns of human strains circulating in the world
Intellectual Skills	* Explains the regional disparities of the countries of the world- Analyzes the map Scout old and new to the world- Formulate research questions in the field of geography of the world
Professional Skills	* Drawing shapes and regional maps of various kinds- Read the work of the new map of the world and carries connotations- Uses modern and advanced means in the regional geographic area
General Skill	* -The various techniques used in solving regional and global diversity problems. -Apply the skills and knowledge associated with the geographic area of the world. * -Accept all views associated with the regional diversity

Course Contents

- 1 - It Study bas map to the world, and their ratings of regional, also illustrates the most important continents constituent, the old (Africa - Eurasia), and the new (the Americas and Oceania), and stages of detection, and examines the physical characteristics and the human and the most important dynasties constituent components of the two, and economic activity for each continent. With Empirical Study on different countries from every continent

Students Assessment

Assessment Method	TIME	MARKS
mid term Exam.
	mid term Exam.: mid. term
		– mid term Exam.: 30 marks
Students attendance and absence.: End term
		Students attendance and absence.: 5 marks.
	Students attendance and absence.: End term
Final Exam.: End term
	– Final Exam.
		– Final Exam.: 60 marks

Books and References

Course note	Mansour board: geography of Africa, the student library, Al-Azhar University .2010
Essential books	- Fathi Abu Ayana: geography of the Americas, the Arab Thought Dar 0.2007 Cairo
Other References	http://arabic.arabic.msn.com/books.qsp http://www.arabgeographers.com
(Periodical, web sites, etc.)	http://scholar.google.com.ly http://swideg.jeeran.com/geography